

TOWNLEY DUCKS RETURN SPEECH IN JAMESTOWN

Big Boss, Who Said He Would Be at Big Rally, Fails to Appear

SENDS WOMAN INSTEAD

Parade is Failure—Both Joint Campaign and League Headquarters Claim Win

Jamestown, N. D., Nov. 1.—A. C. Townley didn't come back.

Instead, his cohorts sent a woman speaker in his place.

And Jamestown today is wondering why the big boss, who threatened the boycott so viciously here early in the week and was billed to come back Saturday night for a big rally, failed to show up.

He was said to have departed for parts unknown in his $10,000 airplane.

The big chief was to have a big torchlight parade. He didn't come and the parade wasn't much. There wasn't a band. There wasn't a big crowd. People came and went to the hall, where John Hagan and Mrs. George Loftis spoke.

There wasn't any trouble, though the anti-Townley forces were roused to fever heat by Townley's vicious attacks, and because, at the last minute, an apparent attack had been made by the Townley board of administration on the officials of the Jamestown insane hospital without any apparent cause.

There are stickers pasted in many places in Jamestown saying: "We're not afraid of Townley's threats. We are American citizens and will remain."

A record vote is expected in Stanton county. Business houses in Jamestown will close to give everybody the opportunity to vote early.

NELSON SEES 10,000 VICTORY

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 1.—Victory was claimed by both the headquarters of the Nonpartisan league and the Joint Campaign committee today.

The anti-Townley forces had perhaps the greatest political rally held in years here Saturday night. Townley and other leaguers were billed to speak in an open air rally here to night.

"It looks like about 10,000 majority for us," said T. G. Nelson, secretary of the Joint Campaign committee. "There will be an almost straight vote for candidates and laws."

"If the weather is fair we will win by a 15,000 to 20,000 majority," said R. C. Felver, state secretary of the league. "If it is stormy and bad we will be defeated. Our vote is largely a farmer vote and a very bad day would keep many farmers from the polls."

SOUTH DAKOTA HAS BLIZZARD WITH BIG SNOW

Five Inches of Snow at Huron
—Snow Also over Eastern
Montana

Stormy weather was reported in South Dakota today in telegrams received at the United States Weather bureau office. Five inches of snow was reported at Huron, South Dakota, with a 30-mile wind blowing. There was close to 10 inches of snow at Rapid City, in the Black Hills, according to reports to O. W. Roberts, head of the Bismarck weather station.

Snow is reported over eastern Montana also by Pullman conductors, but the snow which covered the section of Montana between Butte and the Montana line did not fall to any extent in western North Dakota.

The indications were today that the clouds would lift and that the weather would be clear and somewhat warmer Tuesday. A chill wind gave Bismarck a touch of winter Sunday. At 7 a. m. today it was 22 above, while the highest temperature Sunday was 29 and the lowest was 28. It was 20 above at Williston Sunday.

A review of conditions said: "The storm center noted Saturday over the Southwest had advanced to the middle Mississippi valley accompanied by snow or rain from Wyoming, South Dakota and southern Minnesota southward. Low temperatures prevail generally over the western states but a low pressure area accompanied by rising temperatures has appeared over the extreme northwest and its southwesterly movement will result in partly cloudy weather in North Dakota tonight and Tuesday with somewhat warmer Tuesday."

WOMAN JUDGE.

Wilton, Nov. 1.—Mrs. C. G. Mathis was selected as one of the judges at the election and will be at the polling place in Wilton all day. Women voters will be especially pleased to learn that such a selection has been made. E. C. Stocker is the inspector of election.

Job Brinton the Penitent for Profit

Job Brinton who has introduced his well known Beach tactics into the contest for the official paper of Burleigh County is a penitent for profit. Failing in an effort to purchase The Tribune's withdrawal from the contest, he seeks through Townley's tactics of abuse and deception to mislead the voters of Burleigh county.

This Penitent for Profit "hit" the saw dust trail on his way to the mourners bench after the June primaries indicated political sentiment in Burleigh. This and the fact that someone had evidently roped off the Nonpartisan League cash till prompted Job to write his "Confessions" at so much a line—always a Penitent for Profit.

SEES PATRONAGE SLIPPING
His admissions of partnership in Townley's operations reflect no credit upon him and entitle him to no consideration at the hands of any anti-Townley voter, man or woman.

He would be with Townley today were it not that the pap legislated into his pocket through the operation of a legislature dominated by a secret caucus was in jeopardy here in Burleigh county.

His pap fed sheet is a farmers newspaper in name only. Unsuspecting farmers believed they were subscribing for stock in this paper only to find that the newspaper plant was Job's not theirs. This Penitent for Profit has been on the stump in Burleigh county for two weeks explaining the transaction which converted an alleged farmer owned newspaper into a Britonized pap nourished weekly.

DENIED VOTERS AN EXPRESSION
The farmers of Burleigh county know the part Brinton has played in the various newspaper deals that followed the passage of the infamous newspaper grab act which at its inception denied the people of North Dakota the right to select immediately by popular vote their official papers. For two years the papers were designated by a commission controlled by Townley and Brinton.

It was Mr. Brinton's plan to starve out the opposition so that when election rolled around, there would be slight opposition to a continuance of his legalized boycott. This doubtless has been the result in some counties, but not in Burleigh, Cass Grand Forks and other sections of the state. That is the reason Mr. Brinton is here today parading in oratorical flights the menace of Townley who was his political bedfellow a few weeks ago.

WAITING FOR DIVIDENDS

Burleigh county farmers realize now that none of the public pap enjoyed for the last two years by the local Brinton league paper will be used to pay them dividends upon their unfortunate investment. This money has gone the usual Townley route—Now you see it and now you don't.

The Tribune is not interested in the financial capers of Job Brinton, the Penitent for Profit, but believes the veil of piety this leaguer has assumed should be lifted for the benefit of the voters of this county. His methods are those of the Townley school which Brinton has helped to develop. The leopard cannot change his spots.

The Tribune only hopes to drive home to the anti-Townley voters of Burleigh County that this Penitent for Profit has no endorsement formal or informal from the anti-Townley, anti-Socialist organization of Burleigh county. His yellow circulars have been publicly repudiated by H. P. Goddard, chairman of the Burleigh county anti-Townley committee. Job Brinton with his usual egotism and cheap bravado, has sought to annex an endorsement of the anti-Townley committee through the circulation of a letter purporting to come from the Independent voters' committee of which Mr. Goddard is chairman. How worthy he is can be judged by the tactics he practices in his role as Penitent for Profit.

It is not the Tribune's intention to retell here the political history of Job Brinton. His association with Townley is too recent to entitle him even to a probationers pew along the saw dust trail. He seeks an immediate reward for "virtue" ere his confession or his conversion is complete. This seeming haste for the political fleshpots militates against his acceptance into full fellowship of the Independents who have been in this fight against Townleyism for years not for weeks.

The Tribune is not seeking support for its candidacy for official paper of Burleigh county on any such mercenary grounds. It asks no pap from the public for what it has attempted to do in this struggle to expose graft and inefficiency in North Dakota. The Tribune advances its candidacy strictly upon a business basis. IT HAS FOUGHT TOWNLEYISM FROM THE START AND WILL CONTINUE THE FIGHT TO THE END WHATEVER THE RESULT TOMORROW. This newspaper is not begging votes from the people of Burleigh in return for doing its duty as a free independent American newspaper.

Five years ago when A. C. Townley and Job Brinton raised the banner of class hatred in this state, The Tribune opposed them and will continue to combat this vicious propaganda to which Job Brinton at heart is still a convert.

FIRST AND FOREMOST THE TRIBUNE IS INTERESTED IN THE SUCCESS OF EVERY CANDIDATE ON THE ANTI-TOWNLEY TICKET. THEIR ELECTION IS THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

THE TRIBUNE IS CONTROLLED BY NO FACTION AND IS PLEDGED ONLY TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF ALL THE PEOPLE OF BURLEIGH COUNTY AND IS DEDICATED FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME TO THE REDEMPTION OF THIS STATE FROM THE MISRULE WHICH TOWNLEY, BRINTON AND THEIR KIND HAVE FOISTED UPON NORTH DAKOTA.

HARDING TO WIN STATE BY STRONG VOTE, INDICATION
WRECK PREVENTS WELSH CONCERT AT LOCAL CHURCH

The Republican presidential ticket will receive a huge majority in North Dakota, if the state-wide straw vote taken by the Rexall stores is a good criterion. The latest tabulations made public through the A. P. Lensart pharmacy gives the vote as follows: For Harding, 1,416,726; for Cox, 1,215,215; for Harding, female, 235,615; for Cox, female, 231,215. The straw vote for the entire United States gives a popular vote of 5,500,000 for Harding and 4,000,000 for Cox. It would indicate that Harding would get 332 electoral votes, and Cox would get 110 electoral votes.

The Welsh male choir, which was to give a concert at the First Presbyterian church Saturday night, was in the city of Northern Pacific trains Nov. 1 and 2 Saturday and did not reach Bismarck until 10 p. m., too late for the concert.

Many tickets had been sold and there was a large audience when a train was being returned at Harris today.

The engine left on the train for Dickinson where it will give a concert and return there tonight. The pulverized street rubbish and the hay have been found to make good briquettes in Amsterdam.

386 ELECTORAL HARDING VOTES, CHAIRMAN SAYS

COX LEADER CONFIDENT

"Cox Will Win," White's Terse Declaration—Woman Vote is Problem

New York, Nov. 1.—Both major parties began their last day of campaigning by reasserting confidence in the election of their candidates. "Cox and Roosevelt will win," declared George White, Democratic national chairman. Will H. Hays, leader of the Republican forces, translated his expectations into figures expressing conviction that Harding will have no less than 385, probably 395—electoral votes of a possible 531. The number required to elect is 268.

LOCAL PEOPLE ON N. P. TRAINS WHICH CRASHED

Miss Leila Dissen Cut About
Face by Glass and Others
Are Shaken Up

MISREAD ORDERS CAUSE?

Several Bismarck people who were on Northern Pacific trains 1 and 2 when they crashed head-on near Sordina Saturday, are congratulating themselves today on escaping a bad wreck. All of them were shaken up and few were cut by falling glass.

Miss Leila Dissen, of the state immigration department, suffered painful cuts from falling glass and medical attention was required. Among the other Bismarck people who were on the train were D. T. Owens, E. B. Woodward, Mrs. A. C. Jackson and Frank Millhollan.

Miss Dissen was reported resting comfortably today. In addition to severe cuts about the head and face, she was badly shaken up and suffered a severe nervous shock. Upon reaching the city on the belated train at 10 p. m. Saturday, she was taken to the Grand Pacific hotel where medical attention was given.

Conductor P. F. Delmore, of Fargo, and brakeman L. C. Larkin, of Fargo, both on No. 1, are giving credit for averting a terrible smash-up. They set the air brakes on No. 2 after the train had run by the siding where it had been ordered to wait for No. 1, according to reports of the wreck given here today. Train No. 2 was brought almost to a standstill when the crash came, and although the emergency brakes were set the train came together with a terrific impact. The front ends of the engines were smashed and locked together, so that it took several hours for the wrecking crew to cut them apart.

It is said that the misreading of orders by Engineer James Taylor, on No. 2, was the cause of the wreck. He is reported to have got his orders mixed for Nos. 1 and 2 and ran by. As they passed, Conductor Delmore pulled the cord, but it failed to work, and he then ordered brakeman Larkin to set the brakes. Engineer Taylor immediately applied emergency brakes, and train No. 1 was sighted coming round a curve. There were two engines pulling No. 1, the first in charge of Engineer Charles Porter and the second in charge of Engineer Thomas Turner, both of Jamestown.

After the emergency brakes were set on both trains the crews leaped from the engine cabs, and Porter suffered some hurts. Most of the passengers in No. 1 were shaken lightly but many of those on No. 2 were thrown from their seats. Dishes in the dining car on No. 1 were smashed and the cook was scalded by hot water. It is said the train met on a high embankment, and a considerable number of people were injured.

WARNING!

The Burleigh county anti-Townley, anti-Socialist committee will send out no circulars on the eve of election.

H. P. Goddard, county chairman, warns that any circulars, either anonymous or bearing the signature of the committee, which are distributed are not the product of his committee.

For Reelection

Judge W. L. Nuesse

An eleventh-hour attempt to undermine the strength of Judge W. L. Nuesse, who, with Judge Coffey, is a candidate for re-election for district judge with independent endorsement was reported today.

Judge Nuesse, of Bismarck, and Judge Coffey, of Jamestown, are the candidates for judge in Fourth judicial district who received the highest votes in the primary. Their two opponents are still in the race, and a great effort is being made to overturn the strength of Judge Nuesse, because of his important position in Bismarck, where many lawsuits originate which might be turned to political advantage by a favorable court decision.

Judge Nuesse has steadfastly refused to allow politics to enter into his court, and it is because of this stand that Townley forces are attacking him.

In urging the election of his opponent the Townley paper here says that a man of unimpeachable honesty is needed on the bench, carrying the insinuation that Judge Nuesse is not that sort. People of Bismarck, who know of Judge Nuesse's record, are expected to give him an overwhelming majority.

SHIPYARD BID IS REJECTED

Washington, Nov. 1.—Only one bid for the Hog Island shipyard, an offer of $4,000,000 from the Broto Brothers Steel corporation was received today by the shipping board. Chairman Benson announced that the bid would be rejected.

Exciting State Campaign Indicates Majority Under 10,000 for Independent Candidate, in Spite of Terrific League Organization Drive.

RECORD VOTE EXPECTED

The close of an exciting political campaign in North Dakota finds the anti-Townley forces confident that J. F. T. O'Connor and the entire fusion ticket will be elected by comfortable majorities, if the anti-Townley workers continue their efforts until the ballots are counted, guarding against fraud and getting out the vote.

From every part of the state come reports that Townleyism has continued the slide which began two years ago. Many communities show the situation unchanged, but in most the reports are made that Townleyism will receive a few less voters than in the primary. If this condition obtains generally it should give O'Connor the election by from 5,000 to 10,000 votes.

Governor Frazier received 2,506 less than half the votes in the primary. Since that time the women have been given full franchise. Granting that the men vote may not change materially, it appears that the women of the vote will have it in their power to decide the issue.

Indications are for a record vote, perhaps approaching 200,000. The vote in the primary was about 121,000 and registration is heavier this fall in nearly every section. It is believed that fully 80,000 women will exercise their right to equal suffrage with men.

Fair Weather Predicted

The weather prediction is "fair and warmer" for the entire state. This morning it was predicted that the air would clear and election day would be mild throughout the state. Considerable snow fell Saturday afternoon and night in Montana, from Butte east to the North Dakota line.

Butte east to the North Dakota line, with a fair day it is certain that the vote will approach a record. A blizzard was reported in South Dakota today, with 5 inches of snow at Huron.

A. C. Townley and his followers, on the eve of election, stand with their backs to the wall. The big blow of the Nonpartisan league was the victory in the Minneapolis fight to spend his time in North Dakota because the situation was desperate and Minnesota said to be rather hopeless, but told his workers that they are defeated unless they make a wonderful organization finish. This is the big hope of the league, that their paid organizers throughout the state will get out every league vote, while many anti-Townley voters, especially women, will not get to the polls.

Tactics Used

The tactics resorted to by the league in the last days of the campaign are taken as indication of their desperation. The anonymous circulars distributed throughout the state, especially in Fargo and Bismarck, and their raising of the religious issues, are tactics more bitter and vicious than ever before adopted.

So vile was the attack upon campaign heads of the anti-Townley forces, not candidates, that Dr. E. D. Ladd who answered that he couldn't approve of the method.

The independent campaign in Fargo reached its height Saturday night when two of the largest halls were too small to accommodate the crowd when O'Connor, McGrann and Burtness were elected. A torch light parade was held, and thousands of people in the parade carried individual banners which in various ways gave forth the message that Fargo wants none of Townleyism.

Big Fargo Meeting

Five thousand people cheered speakers at the Auditorium and over 2,000 were turned away from an overflow convention. Cass county's majority against Townleyism is predicted at 4,000.

Mr. O'Connor ends his campaign in Grand Forks tonight when home folks will give him a great torch light parade before he speaks at the Auditorium.

Fargo newspaper reports indicate that O'Connor will carry the first congressional district by 18,000 votes, the second district will run probably even and O'Connor's admitted gains in the west ought to hold Frazier to a 4,500 majority in the third district. These figures would indicate a probable majority for O'Connor of 7,500 votes.

There are many elements in the campaign which give to Mr. O'Connor a better than even chance for election. Langer was charged with election fraud in the campaign by his prosecutors in Morton county while state's attorney there, which engendered bitterness, by a similar situation in Minot and some other places in the state and the league forces raised the cry of three great men. O'Connor starts as a far out Townleyism from the state and as a friend of the farmer and laborer is his record in the campaign.

THIRTY-NINTH YEAR

BISMARCK, NORTH DAKOTA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 17, 1920.

The men voters in Burleigh county outnumbered the women by 687, as shown by the vote for Governor, according to the official vote, the canvassing of which has been completed by the county board.

The women received 6,475 votes cast for Governor, of which O'Connor received 3,470 and Frazier 2,995. Of these voters, 1,736 men voted for Frazier and 1,845 men voted for O'Connor. There were 1,259 women voters who cast their ballots for Frazier and 1,635 who voted for Mr. O'Connor.

No changes in previously announced results are noted by the official figures. The election cost Burleigh county about $3,000, it is figured. It is estimated that the cost to the entire state was between $125,000 and $150,000.

Several persons received votes for constable, though there were no avowed candidates. Irene Charevois headed the list, receiving 63 votes. Chris Yogan received 5, George Manley got 6, William Fisher got 7 and Vincent Donahue received 22. Some others received scattering votes a total of 47, but not enough to have their names recorded in the official totals. Vincent Donahue's friends, "running him on stickers," made a strong campaign and are gratified at the result. Mr. Donahue has not announced whether he will accept the office.

Dolan got 1,599 men votes and 937 women votes.

Nielson Majority
There were 4,097 persons who voted to change the name of the state reform school at Mandan to the state training school and 1,488 who voted against it.

The amendment making woman suffrage constitutional in North Dakota received 2,869 men votes and 1,850 women votes, while 937 men voted against it and 479 women opposed it. F. E. McCarty who was named over Ed Allen for state's attorney received 1,697 men votes to 1,783 for Allen and 1,538 women votes to 1,179 for Allen.

Ladd received 1,962 men votes and 1,367 women votes while Perry got 1,372 men votes and 1,362 women votes.

There were no avowed candidates for the post of public administrator but Oscar Backman received 16 votes and Grant Palmer got 11. For assessor only a few votes were cast, the names of W. F. Falkner, M. Wolf and E. Perry being recorded.

The vote for official paper showed 2,073 votes for the Record; 2,034 for The Tribune, 632 for the Press and 75 for the Gazette, which withdrew after its name was on the ballot.

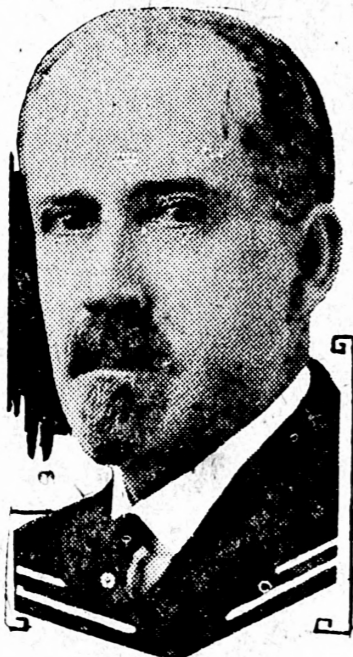

LEAGUE PEDDLES
FARMERS' VOTE
AT SHERIFF SALE

Grand Forks, Nov. 17.—Thirty-nine notes executed by North Dakota residents in favor of the Grand Forks American were sold at public auction at the front door of the Grand Forks county court house Monday afternoon to satisfy a loan made by the First State Bank of East Grand Forks, Minn., to the American for which the notes had been delivered to the bank as security.

According to the legal notice of the sale published in the Grand Forks American then the legal newspaper of Grand Forks county, on October 30, the loan was made by the bank on May 5, 1919, the amount being $4,900. The amount still due the bank from the American, to satisfy which the farmers' notes were sold, was $2,556.22 with interest at 8 per cent on $2,207.84 from Sept. 30, 1920.

Most of the notes were made in the summer and early fall of 1918, and with the exception of one made by Ray Litsey of Bisbee, all were past due.

FOR CABINET

JOHN FIELDS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—John Fields, former president of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College, twice nominee for governor, and editor of one of Senator Capper's farm papers for many years, is the nominee of the southwest for Harding's secretary of agriculture. Fields gained popularity when he demonstrated to Oklahoma that kaffir was as good feed for cattle as Indian corn. The kaffir growing which resulted has eliminated crop failure in this home state.

BUDGET BOARDSucceeds McCarten, Who Notifies Governor He Is Unable to Serve

J. I. Cahill, of Leith, who was the Nonpartisan League candidate for secretary of state in the primaries, has been appointed a member of the state budget committee by Governor Frazier. Mr. Cahill succeeds Richards R. McCarten, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, who is a member of the budget committee by virtue of his position. Mr. McCarten informed the Governor that he was unable to serve.

Other members of the budget committee are Governor Frazier, John Maddock, chairman of the house appropriations committee of the 1919 session, Auditor Carl Kositzky and Attorney General William Langer.

Conferences already have started on the proper appropriations to be made for state departments by the legislature in its forthcoming session.

BELIEVE DEATH
OF 2 ACTRESSES
IS EXPLAINED

Chicago, Nov. 17.—The police believe they have found a solution to the deaths of Marie Haney and Lillian Thompson, actresses, whose bodies were found Sunday in Grant Park. William Harris, a chauffeur, told the police he drove the women and two men on a joy ride Saturday night and that when the women became hysterical, they were taken to Grant Park and thrown out of the machine.

The police said they believed the deaths were due to excessive drinking of home made whiskey and exposure. It was said by the police that Harris' story indicated the women were not in condition to help themselves when left in the park and that the cold weather was instrumental in their deaths.

Brattee found on the bodies were said by Harris, according to the police, to have been inflicted when the women resisted an attack by their companions.

The two men with the actresses on the "joy ride" in Harris' automobile were arrested after Harris surrendered. According to the police they said they "picked up" the actresses early in the evening and took them on a round of the cabarets. The police quote the men as saying they left the women with Harris in his machine. They denied any brutality. Their names were not divulged.

Minnesotan Says

IS FOR COOPERATION

Would Have Farmers Establish Own Agencies and Operate in Grain Exchanges

St. Paul, Nov. 17.—State supervision of marketing organizations and co-operative ownership of retail agencies by farmers are recommended in a report by Hugh J. Hughes, director of the Minnesota department of agriculture, made public today. The report deals with the results of an investigation by the department into conditions affecting the marketing of farm products, ordered by the 1919 legislature.

Co-operative ownership by the farmers of the machinery of marketing, as cast so far as a point where the arm product loses its identity or where it reached retail distribution, is offered as the best available solution of the farmers' marketing problem, says the report.

Co-operative ownership of retail agencies, such as grocery stores, feed markets, milk depots and similar places is suggested by Mr. Hughes as a practical solution of the "unnecessary expenses of living borne by the consumer."

State supervision for the purpose of establishing a fair barter and exchange is held essential.

Central Selling Agency
Mr. Hughes recommends that local co-operative elevators create a central selling agency. Such agencies should hold membership in an grain exchange through which they can find a marketing outlet, continues the report, and the board of directors of the central organization should be empowered to constitute itself a corporation to deal in grain to comply with rules of various boards of trades in order to obtain memberships in them. As an alternative plan the report suggests creation of a central association to act independently of existing grain exchanges and in connection with like sales agencies in other states.

Farmer a Middle-Man
Discussing the proposition as to the farmer becoming a middle-man Mr. Hughes writes:

"The substitution of federal co-operation for the services rendered by the jobber or wholesaler is a matter that must be determined in each line of farm production strictly on the business merits of the proposition. The normal sales period of wheat was only a generation ago a little more than a month. Conditions today, including crop shortage and greater ability of the farmer to finance the crop, has extended the season to practically the entire year. It has been the function of the middle man to handle the crop. This is a highly speculative undertaking involving risks that necessitate a somewhat wide margin of profit to protect the buyer against losses due to price fluctuation. If the farmer takes over this phase of distribution he automatically assumes the risk inherent to the middleman. These risks can be best absorbed and insured against by adopting the co-operative principle of marketing."

"A comparison of private business and co-operative business helps to make clear why co-operative organizations not infrequently find difficulties in securing needed banking assistance. In private business the basis of credit is the character of the individual and the performance of his business, his tangible assets and his volume of the bank loans apparently on the basis of tangible assets."

"Co-operative business the same essential credit requirement holds."

Hillsboro, N. D., Nov. 16.—Lloyd increased number of voters, due to granting of suffrage to women, will necessitate increase of approximately 100 more precincts in this city. At the last election, the first in which women voted for state and national tickets, many precincts accommodated many more than 400 persons, as required by law.

As the next municipal election is in spring, efforts are now being directed at redistricting the city and establishing precincts according to the registration at the last election. Minneapolis now has 210 precincts.

STATE TAX CASE

COURT NOV. 18

Issues to Be Argued Before

Judge Woodruff of Omaha

ALL ROADS INVOLVED

United States Pays Taxes Involved in Some Suits Now
Pending for Adjudication

Fargo, Nov. 17.—The final steps in the famous railroad taxation cases, involving $2,169,191.32 will begin in the United States district court in Fargo on Thursday morning, Nov. 18. Judge J. W. Woodruff of Omaha, Neb., will hear the arguments, and on his decision will hinge the question of whether or not the railroads shall be compelled to pay that portion of the 1917 and 1918 tax which they assert is in excess of the tax that should have been levied against them.

There are five cases pending in the federal court assailing the validity of portions of the tax imposed on railroad property by the state board of equalization for 1917 and 1918.

The main proposition advanced in behalf of the railroads is that their property was assessed at a rate higher than any other class of property in the state and that they should be freed from that part of the tax which is in excess of the amount they say they should have paid had their property been assessed on an equal basis with other property.

Testimony in this case, has been taken before the examiner appointed by the district court, Miss M. Nymon. More than 100 days have been spent in the taking of evidence, about 300 witnesses have been examined, there are about 5,000 pages of testimony and 16 volumes.

Government Flights Tax.

The most important of these cases is the one prosecuted by the director general of railroads on behalf of the federal government. It involves the taxes assessed against the properties of the Great Northern Railway company, the Northern Pacific Railway company, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Northern Pacific Railway company and Farmers Grain & Shipping company railroad, in North Dakota, by the state board of equalization, for the year 1918. The amounts were protested by the director general and his representatives, as excessive and discriminatory. The United States government has to pay the taxes for the year 1918, while it was operating the railroads. The total amount of the tax imposed over the protest of the government representatives, was $3,675,956.08. The government paid two-thirds of this to the various county treasurers of the state, $2,450,973.53, leaving as the amount in dispute in the director general's suit, $1,225,982.55.

Roads Bring Suit

The remaining suits are prosecuted by the railroads in their own right, and involve the taxes which the railroad companies themselves are liable for, and they involve the taxes for the year 1917.

The Great Northern Railway company was taxed for that year by the state board of equalization at $1,236,614.52. They paid two-thirds of this amount, $824,409.75, leaving a balance in controversy in its suit, of $412,204.77.

The Northern Pacific Railway company was taxed at $1,028,101.88 and it paid two-thirds of this to the various county treasurers, namely $685,401.45, leaving the amount in controversy in its suit, $342,700.43.

The Soo Railway company was taxed at $538,995.07, for 1917, and paid two-thirds of this to the various county treasurers, namely $358,730.73, leaving the amount in controversy in its suit, $179,264.34.

The remaining suit is that of the Farmers Grain & Shipping Company railroad. The tax imposed was $16,353.78. The company paid $6,451.55, leaving $9,902.23 in dispute.

Judge N. C. Young of Young, Conn. & Young, of Fargo, and C. J. Murphy & Murphy & Toner, of Grand Forks, will represent the railroads, and the director general of railroads, while F. E. Packard of the attorney general's office will represent the state.

ONE SUSPECT IS HELD

Robbery Declared to Be the Work of "Inside Men" Familiar With Conditions

Omaha, Nov. 17.—An estimate that the amount of property stolen from a mail car in Council Bluffs Saturday night will total $3,500,000 is fairly accurate, in the opinion of L. J. Ratterson, superintendent of mails at that place.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 17.—One suspect is being held in "the greatest postal robbery in history." He is L. V. Graves, who was arrested in Henderson, N. C. Graves, a former post office clerk at Omaha, is said to have had $18,000 concealed in an extra tire of his automobile.

The robbery of gold currency and negotiable bonds from the mail coach of the transcontinental Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad train early Sunday morning at Council Bluffs, Ia., across the river from Omaha, is admitted by postal officials to be in the neighborhood of $3,500,000.

The robbery is thought to have been committed by some one "on the inside," as it was worked with clock-like precision; a chance gang of bandits would have been unable to pick the one of the six cars containing the greatest amount of loot so easily.

Bullion, Gems, Bonds
The treasure car carried registered mail from the Pacific to the Atlantic, gold and bullion shipments from the San Francisco mint to Washington, and much miscellaneous jewelry and securities.

The car was made up in San Francisco Wednesday. It came into Omaha on the Union Pacific tracks and was transferred to the Burlington for Chicago and New York.

The car left Omaha securely locked and bolted. At Council Bluffs a mail clerk sought to enter from another car, and found the door chained. He called his co-workers, the train was stopped, the car entered and the robbery discovered. The theory held most tenable is that the car was broken into by one of the gang, while the rest followed beside the car through the quiet outskirts of the two cities; their companion throwing the loot from the train to an automobile.

How "Robbery" Was Staged

Passing from Omaha to Council Bluffs, the train moved slowly, not more than five miles an hour. It would have been easy, it is pointed out, for the bandit to "flip" to the step of the car, break a pane in the small window in the upper part of the car door, and, reaching through, throw back the latch.

"The occasion of Dr. Gilmore's visit to Grand Forks the past week was to speak before the State Teachers' association on his assigned topic on the program, 'A Living Outdoor Museum,' when the speaker gave an exposition of the plan now in hand of planting on the Capitol grounds for the new Memorial building now under construction."

Sioux Indians on War
Path for Red Cross

Minneapolis, Nov. 17.—The Sioux Indians in Lower Brule, S. D., are on the war path—this time for the American Red Cross.

A war council of all Sioux of the Lower Brule reservation was called by Sam Crazy Bull, a full-blooded Indian, and Red Cross Roll Call organizer for that place recently, and campaign plans were made for the renewal of Red Cross annual memberships, according to information received by headquarters of the northern division here. The drive began November 11 and will continue for two weeks.

FOKKER COMES

NEW YORK—"Within five or ten years we shall cross the ocean in less than a day as safely in giant airplanes as we do now in liners, and more comfortably," is the prediction of Anthony H. G. Fokker, inventor and manufacturer of the plane by that name which gave Germany the air supremacy during the early part of the war.

Fokker (shown here) and wife have arrived in New York on a business trip. He explains he is a Dutchman and not a German. "I never lost my Dutch citizenship," says Fokker. "I had to do business somewhere and I found a customer in Germany. I never was in the German army or in the service of the German government."

Fokker says he offered his planes to England and America in 1912, but both countries turned them down. He believes two things are necessary to make airplanes as common as autos—first, sufficient flying fields, and second, machines which will ascend from a very small space, such as a roof. Fokker adds that planes must be made simpler, stronger and cheaper to become commercially profitable.

Fokker is now working on the possibility of human flight without engines.

Criers on December 2

William J. Betting, of St. Paul, vice-president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, will visit Bismarck on Thursday, December 2, in his tour of North Dakota, delivering addresses on advertising and the work of the associated advertising clubs.

Mr. Betting will visit the state under the auspices of the various Town Criers clubs, which are subsidiary organizations of the Associated advertising clubs. He will be the guest of the club dinner on the evening of his visit.

Community subjects were discussed by the Town Criers at their December meeting last night. Opinions of various members were expressed on methods of community advertising, the proposal for a community celebration at Christmas time, inauguration of a program of winter sports, a program of advertising for the city and methods of entertaining convention visitors in the city. The purpose of the discussion was to develop lines of action to be pursued in the near future.

The Town Criers' discussion followed their monthly dinner at the McKendie, at which nearly 30 members were present. Three new members were initiated into the organization. They were Charles Wattam, A. S. Bolster and C. A. Bonham.

Washington, Nov. 17.—No group of corporation and no group of individuals is going to "deliver American recognition to Mexico," it was stated authoritatively at the state department. It was stated that as a preliminary to recognition the American government did not insist on the abrogation of article 27 of the Mexican constitution.

Officials added, however, that if the operations of the laws enacted under article 27 were confiscatory or retroactive the United States could not accord recognition. "The United States it was declared, is actuated solely by a desire to protect all valid interests of Americans in Mexico."

HARDING INVITED

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 17.—President-elect Harding's reply to the invitation to visit Mexico during his southern trip probably will be determined upon during the next 24 hours as he travels by special train from Brownsville to New Orleans.

Leaving here this morning at the end of a nine-day vacation Senator Harding was to reach New Orleans at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and during a five-hour stay was to deliver an address before the New Orleans Association of Commerce.

If his steamer's course is to be changed to permit a call at Vera Cruz an announcement is expected before he reached the Louisiana port. There were no indications before his departure whether he would accept the invitation which came to him yesterday from Mexican officials.

Rinks

Sites for city ice skating rinks are wanted.

As soon as these sites are obtained work on preparing them will be started.

The members of the city commission have discussed the question, and stand ready to co-operate in the matter, it is announced.

The local chapter of the American Society of Engineers sometime ago agreed to donate their services in laying out an ice rink for the city. They have made plans of two possible sites, but these would require too much water for flooding, it is believed.

G. N. Keniston, secretary of the Commercial club, said today that two citizens had mentioned level lots which might be used, and he asks any citizens who have lots which they would permit to be used for skating rink purposes, telephone him at the Commercial club.

The Town Criers club stands ready to do whatever is necessary to see that the proposition is successful.

They won three first prizes—in calves, pigs and lambs—while in the sewing exhibits the girls won first honors over eleven states. North Dakota and Nebraska, the report says, won more honors than any other state represented at the fair."

HARDING SEEN EASY WINNER IN MINNESOTA

Presidential Contest Overshadowed by Stiff State Fight, However

PREUS LOOMS TO WIN

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 1.—Minnesota election officials were prepared today for a total vote of approximately 650,000 in tomorrow's election. It is estimated this will include nearly 250,000 ballots cast by women.

Details have been completed for speeding up the balloting at the 2,220 voting precincts in the state. Women have been urged to do their voting before 5 p. m., whenever possible, and men free to ballot during the daylight hours are expected to do so and aid in preventing congestion at the polls at night.

Throughout the state, in cities and towns as well as rural precincts, the polls open at 6 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 9 p. m. Voters in line when the 9 o'clock closing time comes will be permitted to vote regardless of the length of time it takes to complete the balloting.

Counting the ballots is expected to take nearly twice as much time this year as in former years, due to the addition of the women vote without adequate provision for judges to handle the augmented poll. Volunteer clerks have been called for, but it is not expected this will prevent delay.

In the 1916 presidential election, 357,364 votes were cast for six presidential candidates, including 179,544 for Charles Evans Hughes the Republican candidate, and 179,544 for Woodrow Wilson. It was one of the closest contests in the history of the state.

Harding Leads
Comparatively little interest has been shown in the presidential contest in the state, with Republican leaders claiming it for Warren G. Harding by a close plurality. The Democratic leaders have conceded Governor J. M. Cox has little chance to carry the state, but insist that if Harding wins, his plurality will not be as large as the Republicans predict.

The greatest interest centers in the gubernatorial and attorney general contests on the state ticket and also on congressional races. The candidates endorsed by the Nonpartisan league, generally running as Independents, in many cases were defeated for Republican nominations in the June 21 primary.

Primary interest attaches to the governorship race, in which State Auditor J. A. O. Preus, the Republican candidate, has as his principal opponent L. Henrik Shipstead, Independent, and Nonpartisan league choice. Preus had a plurality of 8,500 votes over Shipstead in the primary contest for the Republican nomination, with four other candidates polling a total of 47,491 votes.

The contest for attorney general between Clifford L. Hilton, incumbent, and Republican nominee, and Thomas V. Sullivan, Independent, and Nonpartisan league choice, with R. A. McQuat, Democrat, conceded only a poor third position, has aroused much interest. Sullivan opposed Hilton in the primary and the poll showed Hilton, 118,883; Sullivan, 117,061. League opponents claim that 60,000 votes cast for other candidates for the Republican nominations will be turned to Hilton tomorrow. The Nonpartisan league is making no claims.

Supreme Court
Another contest that will be watched with more than normal interest is that for associate justice of the supreme court, in which Homer B. Dibel, incumbent, has as an opponent George E. Siegel, who bears the endorsement of the National Nonpartisan league.

In the primary election, Dibel led the field of four candidates, and as the office is without party designation, the two leading candidates in the primary are opposing each other tomorrow in the primary. Dibel polled 98,813 votes to 91,799 gathered by Siegel. Judge Albert Johnson of Red Wing was third man, with 87,960 votes, and Dibel supporters declare in tomorrow's election contest of this vote will swing to Dibel. Of course, there remains the women vote to contend with.

On the state ticket, another primary candidate endorsed by the Nonpartisan league, defeated then, appears tomorrow as an Independent candidate. He is George H. Mallon of Minneapolis, opposing Louis L. Collins, also of Minneapolis, the Republican nominee, in the contest for lieutenant governor.

In the congressional contests, greatest interest attaches to the Seventh district fight where Andrew J. Volstead, for eighteen years representative from the district, and author of the prohibition enforcement act, seeks re-election on the Republican ticket. His opponent is Rev. O. J. Kvale, Independent, endorsed by the Nonpartisan league. There also is a Democratic candidate, but it is recognized in all camps that the fight is between Volstead and Kvale. Kvale won out in the primary for the Republican nomination, polling 17,369 votes to Volstead's 15,059. However, Kvale was disqualified for violation of the corrupt practices act, and the Republican district committee named Volstead as the party candidate. Kvale immediately refiled as an Independent. Political observers in the Seventh district say the women vote will decide the contest, and both sides are confident of victory.

There are contests in every congressional district, and in most of them, candidates endorsed by the Nonpartisan league have been filed, either as Farmer-Labor candidates or Independents. The Farmer-Labor candidates for state office also have been endorsed where there are no Independents with Nonpartisan endorsement. Besides voting on president, state offices, and congressmen, members of the state house, of representatives and several district judges are to be elected. There are county contests for judge of probate and district court clerks. Incidentally, one of the four amendments to be voted on call for extension of the term of judge probate from two or four years.

CAMPAIGN CLOSE FINDS O'CONNOR IN POSITION IF FORCES GET OUT VOTE

Election Dope
In the June election, 7,920 Democrats voted for O'Connor, and it is admitted that thousands did not vote. Langer, in spite of handicaps, came within 5,500 votes of defeating Frazier.

The same election gave an average victory for the independents on the referred laws of 12,931. It is believed that the initiated measures will carry in this election by big majorities. Still another straw which indicates probably as forcefully and clearly as any other single item, was the vote cast on superintendent of public instruction, on which the women voted. Miss Minnie J. Nielson, the independent candidate, polled 85,412 votes, while Ruth M. Johnson, her Nonpartisan league opponent, polled 75,088. A majority for Miss Nielson of 10,324. Miss Nielson ran approximately 16,000 votes ahead of William Langer as far as majorities are concerned.

Miss Minnie J. Nielson, who was given a great reception in Fargo Saturday, is confident of the success of the anti-Socialist ticket in the election. Among other things, Miss Nielson refuted the lie passed about by the league leaders that she in a speech in Minneapolis, charged the farmers of North Dakota with favoring free love. The word "free love" was never mentioned in her speech, she declared.

"What I did say was true. They know it is true, and that is why they are squirming so. It is the truth that hurts," she said.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

G. O. P. NOMINEE ENDS CAMPAIGN; READ FOR VOTE

Harding to Cast Ballot in Precincts Where He Has Voted 30 Years

Marion, O., Nov. 1.—His campaign over and his final analysis of campaign issues before the people, Senator Harding took a rest today from the long and arduous labors of the Presidential campaign. A smile answered those who asked for his prediction of the outcome of those tomorrow's balloting and in place of any special pre-election claims he called attention to his public utterances of the past few weeks in which he has declared several times that he fully expects to be inaugurated next March as the nation's chief executive.

Detailed forecasts the nominee left to the party managers saying he had made his fight to the best of his ability and was ready to abide by the result.

In a precinct where he has voted for more than 30 years the senator will record tomorrow his own vote among the millions that are to decide the complexion of the next administration. A straight Republican ticket has been recommended by the candidate in his public addresses. Several times he has declared that he did not want to be elected President unless a Republican Congress were chosen to translate the party's legislative promises into performances and in every state he has spoken he has made an appeal for the election of a Republican senate to advise and consent in the formulation of the foreign policy.

TOLEDO CLOSE GOOD LUCK, COX FOLLOWERS SAY

Nominee to Hear Returns in His Own Newspaper Office Election Night

Dayton, O., Nov. 1.—After a day of rest at his home today Governor Cox was to leave for Toledo for the last speech of his campaign. Though the campaign ended virtually at Chicago Saturday the Governor said he had agreed to make the close at Toledo on election eve because the party followers there regarded his appearance as good luck, saying that his only chance of defeat was when he failed to end his speaking campaign in that city. The Governor and his party were to reach Toledo early in the evening.

Preparations were made today at the Governor's newspaper office for the receipts of results on election night. Special telegraph instruments set up in the office included a receiving instrument that was used when Grover Cleveland was elected more than a century ago. The Governor will return here from Toledo election morning and expects to vote as he goes to his farm from the train. He plans to spend the day at his home, coming to his newspaper plant in the evening.

CONVENTION OF WORKMEN COMES HERE IN 1921

Gizeh Temple Will Enliven Sessions with Meeting in City at Same Time

Definite announcement was made today that the big state convention of the Ancient Order of United Workmen will be held in Bismarck next May.

Bismarck, coming rapidly to the fore as the leading convention city in North Dakota, was chosen after due deliberation and offers from other cities. There will be several hundred workmen at the convention here, and the local lodge immediately will begin preparations for the entertainment of the convention.

At the same time the state convention is here, there will be a gathering of Gizeh mosque No. 4, Shieks, which was formed at Fargo recently. This is the new organization of workmen, and a large number of fezzed members of the organization are expected to enliven the state convention.

ELECTION NIGHT DOINGS

Two events are looked forward to with much interest for election night. The first social event of the Business and Professional Women's club will be on in their club rooms and the committee in charge wish all members to know that the evening will be spent in most ghoully and ghostly fashion. The members are urged to come early in the style of the period of witches and goblins but all will be most welcome, however garbed. Withes will take toll at the door of the club room. The Nature club dinner, to be given in the domestic science rooms at the high school will be after the fashion of the present day, except that nothing is to be permitted on the menu of the dinner that is not strictly native to this country. Dr. Gilmore, an officer of the club, is the court of last appeal as to what is "native."

YOUR TAX BILL

Four years ago Townley pledged the Nonpartisan league to an immediate reduction in taxes. This promise has been unfulfilled. Taxes in North Dakota have increased under the New Day. In one year alone, 1918-1919, the increase was 109 per cent.

On the eve of election the voters should consider the cost of the utopia. This can be done by a comparison of tax increases in North Dakota during the last few years—Here is food for thought:

1916 to 1917	18 Per Cent
1917 to 1918	6.5 Per Cent
1918 to 1919	109 Per Cent

Now that the New Day has arrived, it is safe to estimate that the tax increase from 1919 to 1920 will be more than 200 per cent.

Our neighbor Montana has a much lower cost of government. In 1919 the general tax totaled $3,742,616.32, while in Montana the general tax budget was only $1,317,552.74.

In addition North Dakota paid a hail tax of $3,959,647.94, and special taxes such as income, workman's compensation and minor assessments that swell the grand total and present a record that staggers thoughtful citizens both on the farm and in the cities.

A continuation of the Townley rule means a greater tax load. The program this economic dreamer has mapped out has for its ultimate objective the confiscation of private property by taxation.

Voters of North Dakota you are stockholders in the great corporation whose assets these socialists have levied upon at will. It is time for a new management and a new board of directors in the shape of an unbossed legislature.

Place J. F. T. O'Connor and the entire fusion ticket at the helm.

AN ELECTION MYSTERY

Some millions of American men and women will go to the polls tomorrow and come away under the impression that they have voted for either Senator Harding or Governor Cox, of Ohio, for president.

What they have done is to have voted for a certain group of electors. It is these men, 531 of them, who really cast the vote that elects a president. And 266 votes will accomplish that. The reason folks know "who is elected" before they go to bed on election night, is that it is absolutely certain just how each group of presidential electors in each state will vote if chosen. For 124 years no presidential elector among some 60,000, more or less, has ever violated that understanding.

The successful groups of electors meet in the Capitol on the second Monday in January and cast the votes for their states for president and vice president. Then these votes will be sealed up and sent to the president of the United States Senate, Vice President Thomas R. Marshall. On Wednesday, Feb. 9, 1921, the vice president, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, will open the ballots and count them, and report the result to the joint session.

Because of this method of reaching a given point, one can see why Vice President Marshall next Feb. 9 will not be completely flabbergasted by the result when he counts the ballots, nor will he say prophetically: "I told you so" with any effect.

A NEW NOVEMBER

As it comes, people look upon November as a month of shrill, gusty winds, spitting snow, and whirling leaves, a bleak, dire and doleful brother in the year's family of 12 children.

Why isn't it a month of happiness and good cheer? It is filled with good things. November is the month of Thanksgiving, which is to be celebrated in goodly style on Thursday, the 25th of this month. November smacks of turkey and cranberry sauce, and of football and chrysanthemums. It is a hunting month, too, when lovers of the gun are out for big game and small. Then the barns of the farmers are fat with the harvest, though the fields are bare. Cellar shelves groan with the weight of newly canned fruit. Cellar bins bulge with their freight of apples and potatoes and cabbages. The kraut barrel gives off an appetizing odor. Pigs are ready for sacrifice and hams and bacon will soon be curing in the smoke of corncocks and hickory.

On the farm the month of November is the month of cider-making and apple butter "culture." The cold, snappy days are really great days. November, both in city and country, ought to be a glad season. The keen air makes one move the faster. The blood tingles and one feels it is good just to be alive.

BOLIVAR

Few lovers of liberty read the history of Simon Bolivar without a thrill. A youth at the waning of the French Revolution, he lived through its last days in Paris. On his return to his native Venezuela, in 1809, he joined the rebels against Spain.

Quickly Bolivar's passion for liberty, his eloquence and his military ability were recognized. Victory, defeat and again victory set on his shoulder. In 1819 he was able to make his historic march over the Cordilleras, a feat paralleling Napoleon's crossing of the Alps—join forces with Santander, and win the crucial battle of Boyaca.

Like Washington, Bolivar was, as great a statesman as a soldier. He dreamed of a United States in South America. But just as his scheme seemed ready for fruition, political opponents balked it. If he had not achieved his great goal, however, he had set the fires of liberty alight throughout the continent. Independence, the doctrine of equality and resentment of slavery, burn as high today in hearts of South America as they do in our own.

THE SAME THING!

A woman says she is "just too tired to do another thing today."

Sometimes she really is. But a good many times what she means is more likely "too tired to go on doing the same thing another minute!"

"Variety is the mother of enjoyment." Disraeli said; and Coeyper—"Variety is the very spice of life." Most folks think of the application in terms of pleasures only. It's just as true of work.

At the end of a day of household duties give a woman who says she is "just worn out" a new piece of work to do, of an entirely different nature. It may be clerical work to assist her husband; it may be a business meeting of some really serious sort in a club of which she is an officer; or it may be welfare work of a possibly disagreeable nature. In nine cases out of ten, she will go at it with fresh enthusiasm and carry it through to a finish before she tires, unless the hours drag out too unconsciously long. Of course, no one can be expected to enthuse over anything, work or pleasure, if too long deprived of rest.

And the tenth woman will be she who was really as tired as she thought she was—who had actually consumed so much mental and physical energy in her first work that variety could not take the place of total rest for a few hours.

Or, at the end of a business woman's full day in her office, watch her go home to prepare dinner, possibly follow that with some sweeping or dusting, or fruit-canning, or perhaps ironing. If she is not "run down" she will tackle whatever household duties need accomplishing, with almost the zest she started out with at the office that morning—because it's something new, it gives her thoughts a new track to run on for a few hours.

NEIGHBORS THAT COUNT

An elderly man whose opinion is considered worth something in the community was asked the other day what he thought were proper attributes of "the people next door."

And he said:
"I've been living here for nearly 40 years. Folks on either side of us have come and gone. The people I like best for neighbors are those who do these things: They keep the place neat and clean, favor repainting once in awhile; hang out a washing every Monday morning; Tuesday is ironing day.

"They'll lend their lawn mower if you'll bring it back. They'll do the same with a pinch of salt or an egg or a cup of flour. They will go out of their way to do a favor. They like little children, and appreciate that none are perfect. They keep the garbage can covered, and keep the chickens in their yard and not in ours. They are not too curious about who comes and goes at our house. They mind their own business, an excellent trait.

"What the grocer brings in or the laundryman carries out doesn't interest them. They are not snoopers. If, once in awhile, there's a good deal of noise at our house, they don't telephone that they are about to call the police. They are appreciative, kindly, companionable, neighborly.

"They live as nearly by the Golden Rule as is humanly possible, I guess. And that being so, we do the same. It's a good plan; Don't stone your neighbor's dog; it reduces the likelihood that he will stone yours."

Seems as if the wise old gentleman preached a pretty good-sized sermon in not so many words, either.

To have obstinately held up the peace of the world for eighteen months, with its fearful cost to ourselves and millions of helpless people, to have rejected the opportunity of amicable adjustment, is the greatest failure of American statesmanship since the Civil War. The "Solemn referendum" is not on the League, it is on the failure of the Democratic party.

SUPREME COURT

From Nelson County M. M. Eckrom and O. B. Gunderson, Plaintiffs and Respondents, vs. Carl Swensson and John Watson, Defendants and Appellants. (Syllabus) Defendant, Carl Swensson, appeals from a judgment for $304.30 on a verdict against him and his co-defendant. The judgment is for services performed for and at the request of the defendant in the threshing of grain at $15 an hour. The answer of the appellant was merely a general denial. Yet, on the trial, his real defense was that in leasing the land on which the grain was grown and in all matters pertaining to the seeding, harvesting and threshing, he acted as the agent of his wife to whom he had conveyed the land. However, as he acted as the principal and real party and did not by answer disclose that his wife had any interest in the matter, he is justly chargeable as principal.

Appeal from a judgment of the District Court of Nelson county; Hon. A. T. Cole, Judge. From a judgment in favor of plaintiffs, defendant appeals.

Affirmed. Opinion of the Court by Robinson, J. Bronson, J. and Christianson, C. J. concur specially. Bangs & Robbins, Grand Forks, Attorneys for Appellant. C. N. Frick, Lakota, and Engerud, Divet, Holt & Frame, Fargo, Attorneys for Respondents.

From Ramsey County Catherine Cale and John Becker Plaintiffs and Appellants, vs. Phoebe C. Way, Defendant and Respondent. (Syllabus) As the heirs of Frederick Becker, deceased, the plaintiffs and appellants claim some title to a quarter section of land which, about a year prior to his decease, Becker conveyed to his sister, the defendant. She did not record the deed or take possession of the land until after the decease of the grantor, and there is some evidence that she had in her mind a secret purpose to give back the title to her brother, in case he should survive her. Hence it is contended that the delivery of the deed was conditional and not effectual. However, the clear, positive and uncontradicted testimony shows that the delivery of the deed was absolute and not conditional.

Affirmed. Opinion of the Court by Robinson, J. Adamson & Thompson and Rollo F. Hunt, Attorneys for Appellants, Devils Lake, N. D. Cuthbert, Smythe & Wheeler, Attorneys for Respondent, Devils Lake, N. D.

WORLD'S SHAPeliEST WOMAN IN NEW FOX RELEASE

The stately Dolores, said by experts on feminine beauty to be the most perfectly formed woman in the world, appears in a scene of "White New York Sleens," a Fox Special, to be shown at the Eltinge theatre tonight. The famous beauty is seen during a dance number of "The Midnight Frolic," a big Ziegfeld production now running in New York. This number was filmed by courtesy of Mr. Ziegfeld himself.

Charles J. Brabin, the director, assembled his cameramen on the roof of the New Amsterdam theatre to be in readiness for the conclusion of the show. Lights had been reinforced by special illuminating apparatus necessary for filming and at 1.30 in the morning arrangements were finally completed and the cameramen began to crank.

Brilliant scenes taken during the height of festivities at the Palais Royal, a famous New York cafe, are also used in the second episode of "White New York Sleens."

MINNESOTA GIVES FACTS TO THE PUBLIC

"After being in bad shape for more than a year I am a well man again, thanks to Tanlac," declared Joseph Stanley, 3201 Finley Place, Minneapolis, Minn.

"My stomach had been in such an awful condition that I could not eat a single thing without its hurting me. My food would ferment, bloating me up with gas, and I had constant pains in the pit of my stomach. My kidneys also worried me a great deal and I had such a severe pain in the small of my back it was an effort for me to bend over. I was badly constipated, and often had dizzy spells. I couldn't get a good night's sleep and would get up in the mornings feeling dull and stupid. I lost at least fifteen pounds in weight, grew weaker every day, felt tired and worn out all the time and finally just had to give up and stop work. "I was in this condition when I began taking Tanlac, but I had taken only a few doses when I commenced getting better. While I have only taken four bottles so far my whole system has been built up and I can eat anything I want without suffering from it afterwards. My kidneys do not worry me any more and the pains in my back have entirely gone. I am never constipated, never become dizzy and have regained all my lost weight and strength and feel as well as I ever did in my life." Tanlac is sold in Bismarck by Jos. Breslow, in Driscoll by N. D. and J. H. Barrette, in Wing by H. P. Homan and in Strasburg by Strasburg Drug Co. —adv.

Where Candidates Will Get Returns

Chicago, Nov. 1.—This is where the major presidential candidates will receive the returns of election night: Governor Cox, the democratic nominee, at Dayton, O., his home town. Senator Harding, the Republican candidate, at the "front porch" in Marion.

Aaron S. Watkins, the Prohibition standard bearer, at his new home in Cincinnati, O.

Three out of the seven in Ohio, the rest are scattered.

Eugene W. Debs, the Socialist candidate, at the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga.

Parley P. Christensen, the nominee of the Farmer-Labor Party, at his home at Salt Lake City, Utah.

There probably won't be any returns Tuesday night for two other presidential nominees whose names have been prominent on middle western ballots. These are Robert C. Macauley, of Philadelphia, the single candidate, and William W. Cox of Missouri, who heads the Socialist-Labor ticket. Returns on the minor candidates are generally several days coming in.

Debs will get the returns through the national socialist headquarters in Chicago. It has arranged to telegraph him. If the party pulls a heavy vote it reports it may make special announcement to him on Nov. 5, which marks Debs' 65th birthday.

FARM BUREAU MAY BE FORMED

Dickinson, Nov. 1.—Announcement from the Agricultural College that a conference will be held in the near future to consider the advisability of forming a State Farm Bureau Federation, has aroused the interest of a number of members of the Stark county "Farm Bureau," and it is probable that a meeting of the executive committee and county chairman will be held soon to choose a delegate to attend the state meeting. At this meeting the vote on co-operative extension work, to be taken at the state election, will also be discussed, as the Farm Bureau will have no agents to carry on its work should the voters turn down extension work, and also the county will lose the federal and state funds appropriated to help care for the expense of these agents.

DEVALERA SEES IRISH GAIN IN MACSWINEY CASE

"President of Irish Republic"
Not Permitted to Return
Now

BY HARRY B. HUNT.

N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Eamon de

Valera, president of the Irish Republic, will not be permitted by leaders in the Irish cause to sacrifice his life by hunger-striking in an English prison to carry on the protest for which Terence MacSwiney had mayor of Cork, gave his life.

When MacSwiney announced that if the lord mayor died he himself would return to Ireland, give himself up to the British authorities and take up the fight where MacSwiney left it.

He said he would die if hunger if necessary for the cause of Irish freedom.

Today, however, at his office in the quarters of the Irish diplomatic mission, De Valera shook his head doubtfully when asked if he expected to return to Ireland soon.

I am very busy, he said, there is much to be done. I haven't taken it matter up again. But I am in the hands of my people.

And at least those attached to his office at Irish headquarters here will not consent to his voluntary return to Ireland at this time.

No further emphasis on British oppression they claim, could be given by the sacrifice of De Valera's life than has already been made by Mac-

Swiney's death. De Valera living, they say, can help Ireland more than De Valera dead.

MacSwiney's Death

The sacrifices of the men who are daily dying for Ireland, said De

Valera, cannot fail to awaken the conscience of the world.

Men, no matter how blinded through false information or with prejudice, must know that such sacrifices are possible only in a just cause.

"Ireland's ability to resist the might of an empire during seven and a half centuries is itself a proof of the righteousness of her struggle.

The savagery of Roman emperors did not crush out Christianity. The savagery of English Balfours and

Lloyd Georges will not crush Ireland's aspirations for freedom.

The ideals for which the recent war was supposed to have been waged are the ideals for which Fitzgerald,

MacSwiney and Murphy have died and their comrades are dying.

These ideals were of the highest import to humanity. They were lost at the peace table in Versailles. Mac-

Swiney has died to save them for Ireland and for the world.

MacSwiney's and his comrades' deaths will make Ireland's resolve the firmer, never to surrender a jot or title of the heritage which they died to defend."

TRIBUNE

Endorsed By

COMMITTEE

BRINTON CIRCULAR CLAIMING SUPPORT SHOWN FALSE BY ANTI-TOWNLEY CHAIRMAN

Campaign for Official Newspaper, a Business Proposition for Voters, Dragged Into Mire by Townley and Brinton Methods.

Unfair roorbacks from the camps of Brinton and Knappen enlivened the campaign for the official paper of Burleigh county. Mr. Brinton, who until today has been silent on all Anti-Townley candidates, has circularized the voters of Bismarck under the guise of the "Anti-Townley, Anti-Socialist committee of Burleigh county, making a vigorous attack upon The Tribune and declaring that a vote for this paper is a vote for the Townley candidate for official organ of Burleigh.

Voters of the county should not be misled by this eleventh hour attack. The Tribune has refrained from attacking any of its competitors. It has regarded the selection of an official paper as a purely business proposition.

The race is absolutely between The Tribune and the league newspaper in Burleigh county. Brinton's presence in the contest merely serves the ends of Townley's paper established a few weeks ago when an apparent break came between Townley and Brinton; not over principles, but merely over spoils and division of the patronage.

Official Endorsement

Brinton knows that he is dealing in lies when he claims to have the endorsement of the Anti-Townley Burleigh county committee. Here is the official endorsement of the committee over the signature of H. P. Goddard, county chairman:

WE ARE NOT RESPONSIBLE IN ANY WAY FOR THE CIRCULAR LETTER HEADED ANTI-TOWNLEY, ANTI-SOCIALIST BURLEIGH COUNTY COMMITTEE AND SIGNED ANTI-TOWNLEY, ANTI-SOCIALIST COMMITTEE, ENDORSING THE BURLEIGH COUNTY FARMER'S PRESS FOR THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF BURLEIGH COUNTY.

AT A MEETING OF THE PRECINCT COMMITTEEMEN FROM ALL PARTS OF BURLEIGH COUNTY, HELD AT THE GRAND PACIFIC HOTEL, DURING THE LATTER PART OF SEPTEMBER, THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE WAS ENDORSED AS THE OFFICIAL PAPER FOR BURLEIGH COUNTY.

H. P. GODDARD,
COUNTY CHAIRMAN,

ANTI-TOWNLEY, BURLEIGH COUNTY COMM.

Brinton's circulars have been repudiated by all the workers on the anti-Townley Burleigh county committee and The Tribune has been officially endorsed as the only newspaper of sufficient circulation to handle the legal notices and to give service to the voters of Burleigh county.

A drive for the Farmer-Labor Record, the league paper, was made today from St. Paul. Circulars from that city were received. It is fitting that the campaign for the league paper should be made from St. Paul where the editorials are written and the policy of the league papers fixed.

Supporting Home Institutions

Do the voters of Bismarck desire to support a paper whose revenue must be diverted to the league headquarters at St. Paul or do they want to support a local institution that has been on the ground for forty years and stands for permanency and seeks your vote on strictly business principles?

The Tribune has a larger circulation in Burleigh county than the combined paid circulation of the Brinton and Knappen papers. These eleventh hour attacks are difficult to combat. The Tribune wants to thank the anti-Townley workers for the support given it in this campaign. It hopes, win or lose, to be able to reciprocate for the many kindnesses shown.

It is an unfortunate feature of the law that newspapers must enter the hazy world of politics to secure patronage that should be all the laws of business and fairness go to the paper of largest circulation, one committed to a policy of progress and one which is striving with its might and main to build a bigger and better Bismarck, and County of Burleigh.

People should be able to go to whatever newspaper they desire with their legal business. That would be fair and American.

What Brinton Did

Had it not been for Brinton, however, father of the newspaper bill, hundreds of editors today would not be deprived of their just income. The Tribune speaks for the loyal opponents of Townley who fought the battle against Socialism while this same Brinton was eating at the Townley crib and enjoying the income that was produced under this newspaper act.

He, of all candidates in the state, is least entitled to consideration. The newspaper law sent many fearless editors to other states who left rather than submit to coercion of Brinton, and Townley.

If any candidate deserves being buried election day it is the author of the bill designed originally to drive independent editors from the state by legalized boycott.

The same is true of the Farmer-Labor Record recently pried from the public trough. Its sponsors assisted in framing the newspaper act which denied at first the voters the right of naming the official papers for a period of two years hoping in the interim to starve out the opposition.

Victorious or defeated, The Tribune will be in the front ranks fighting the battle of decency in state government. It will work just as hard for the interests of North Dakota, Burleigh county and the City of Bismarck, whatever the result.

Money Spent Here

But voters of Burleigh, do not be deceived. The Bismarck Tribune is entitled to your vote from a strictly business standpoint. It makes no difference if The Tribune company has the state printing contracts. These were secured through competitive bids against other printers in the state. The Tribune won these contracts because it was the low bidder not because of any love the Townley administration bears toward this institution.

Moreover every cent spent by the state for printing has been disbursed in Bismarck in the way of increased payrolls, additions to the plant and improvements of other kinds.

Has any of the opponents of The Tribune a like record of accomplishment?

The case is in your hands Mr. Voter—Brinton's and Knappen's eleventh hour roorbacks should not sway you from the path of duty.

BRITTON DOESN'T LIKE THIS FELLOW

You can count the boys who have dropped Champion Jack Britton on a few digits. The Pittsburgh Italian, Jack Perry, is one of them. He has always been tough medicine for the champion. Perry came within one second of the welter crown at Toledo the last time they swapped lessons. Britton hit the canvas for the count of nine in the Buckeye city—but he revived in time to save his title.

Britton is slowing up. Years have sapped his power, but he's still proving too smart for the present crop of contenders. Some of them think he's going to get him and Perry thinks he's the guy who's going to take him.

Perry has earned two popular decisions over Britton, boxed one draw and losing another time on points. The Pittsburgh boy began boxing seven years ago. He is a graduate of Carnegie High School. He gave up a college education for a boxing career. The wallop he carries distinguishes him from the other welters.

Perry has earned two popular decisions over Britton, boxed one draw and losing another time on points. The Pittsburgh boy began boxing seven years ago. He is a graduate of Carnegie High School. He gave up a college education for a boxing career. The wallop he carries distinguishes him from the other welters.

Britton is slowing up. Years have sapped his power, but he's still proving too smart for the present crop of contenders. Some of them think he's going to get him and Perry thinks he's the guy who's going to take him.

MANDAN TAKES GRIDIRON GAME BY BIG SCORE

Tramples Bismarck High, 47 to 0, in Game Saturday Afternoon at Mandan

Bismarck high school was eliminated from the state football title race by Mandan Saturday afternoon at Mandan by a score of 47 to 0.

The result was a huge surprise to the loyal supporters of the local team, which played Mandan to a 0 to 0 tie three weeks ago. The Mandan team showed wonderful improvement over its first game, and big McDonald, little Gray and Fleck proved consistent ground gainers. At the end of the first half the score was 22 to 0. In the first quarter Mandan made two touchdowns. One was made in the third period and three more in the final session.

The local team fought hard, but was outwitted and outplayed. Khut and Boise were the only Bismarck men who could gain much ground. The Mandan team played much smarter ball than three weeks ago, and the team is composed chiefly of men who played last year.

Valley City proved its class Saturday in high school football by defeating Jamestown, which was held to 14 to 0 by Bismarck, by a score of 21 to 0. The Valley team ranks high.

Fargo high beat Grand Forks high 14 to 7 in a hard-fought game. Moorhead high defeated Breckenridge, Minn. 34 to 0.
